DISCUSS SALE OF BUILDINGS TO SANGAMO

A special meeting of the Newmarket town council was held Thursday afternoon when the industrial committee of council, under the chairmanship of Councillor Joseph Vale, was authorized to carry on negotiations with the Sangamo Electric Co. for the sale of the military camp hospital building and two buildings which housed the C.W.A.C.

Mr. Vale told the council that members of the Sangamo firm had mentioned the possibility of the purchase of the hospital building, which earlier the firm had intended to lease for three years, and against future expansion, the purchase of the C.W.A.C. quarters.

Mr. Vale said that the purchase price would include land directly adjacent to the buildings.

The Sangamo Electric Co. will manufacture condensers for radios and other electronic equipment.

Early this week, Mr. Vale said legal preparations for completing the sale of the military camp to the town were proceeding, and that it is expected to have the agreement between Newmarket and the federal government completed within a short time.

Has Sewage Plant Many Years

At the last Newmarket town council meeting, G. B. Thompson of Holland Landing appeared before the council to ask that the town of Newmarket end its present practice of emptying sewers in the Holland River.

Mr. Thompson was told that a sewage disposal plant was financially impractical for a town of the size of Newmarket but the town of Aurora, smaller than Newmarket, boasts an efficient sewage disposal plant, said to be a model for a town of its size.

Approved by the ratepayers in 1930, under the mayoralty of the late S. C. Taylor, the system took close to a year to construct. Some five miles of sewer pipe were laid to cover almost the entire town as it was then constituted. The work was completed under the mayoralty of Dr. C. R. Boulding.

The initial cost to the municipality was $62,000 for the system, and $47,500 for the disposal plant on Machell Ave. Aurora was fortunate at the time in keeping cost down due to the use of relief labor. Extras over the years amounted to about $30,000. The cost was borne by debentures in equal yearly instalments. The system was budgeted over a 30-year period and the disposal plant over a 20-year period. Total addition to the Aurora tax rate amounted to less than five mills per year on the general rate.

The disposal plant sees the raw sewage entering a chamber where it is aerated. From there it enters another chamber for additional treatment, thence to a third, and finally back to the first chamber, where it emerges in pure fluid form and enters the creek. From time to time the chambers are pumped and the solid matter enters drying beds under a glass roof. The beds are emptied periodically and there is demand for the dry sewage as fertilizer.

It is odorless when removed. There has not been a single major breakdown in close to 15 years of operation despite the fact that the system operates 24 hours a day at high speed. Town foreman James Goulding has contributed much to the efficiency of the plant.

The 1945 town financial statement shows a maintenance cost including wages of $2,211.60. Up-keep and repairs to the system amounted to $254.11. This amounts to about 1.5 mills of the Aurora tax rate.

The present system has had a few additions. This year by way of comparison of costs, an addition is being made in Edward St. at a cost of $6,575 for 1,250 feet. The disposal plant and the system were so planned that they have accommodated all additional buildings and factory expansion in town, and can do so for many more years to come.

Juniors One Up In York Ball Finals Play Again Tonight

By GEORGE HASKETT

Newmarket juniors and Aurora put on a great battle in the opening game of the North York Lions baseball playoffs at Pantry Park on Tuesday evening. When the noses were counted Newmarket had gained a 9-8 victory to take a one-game lead in the finals. It was the tightest battle seen at the Stuart Scott school grounds in several seasons, as first one team then the other fashioned a lead only to see it vanish. The largest crowd of the season viewed the proceedings and enjoyed every minute of the show.

SPECIAL BUS

A special bus is leaving from the King George hotel tonight at 6.30 p.m. to take spectators to Aurora to see the second game in the finals between Newmarket juniors and Aurora. The cost of the trip will be 30 cents each return with the Newmarket Community Recreation Council paying the difference between the fares and the cost of hiring the bus.

STREET DANCE, CARNIVAL SET FOR AUG. 21-22

The Newmarket Lions club is holding its annual two-night carnival and street dance at Lions club park and on Main St., Newmarket, Aug. 21 and Aug. 22. The proceeds of the carnival and dance will be used to continue the welfare work of the club.

The club has relied upon this two-night carnival and dance to raise the major share of the money it uses in its welfare work. Some idea of the extent and the value to the community of such work is seen in a glance over the records of the club.

Take the case of Billy. Billy at six years suffered from badly crossed eyes. His parents were not in a position to help their son. Because of his disability, Billy was the goat of the neighborhood gang. His life was made miserable with the constant teasing he experienced.

Although bright and intelligent, Billy's school work began to suffer, not only because of his difficulty with his eyes but because the teasing of other children had made him self-conscious. Billy's case was brought to the attention of the Lions club. The welfare committee arranged for Billy to be taken to Toronto where he was thoroughly examined by an eye expert. An operation was indicated and the Lions club paid for it. Glasses were needed and the Lions club provided them. In all, the expense of taking care of Billy amounted to more than $100.

There are many children like Billy who have been helped by the Lions club, but this is only part of the club's activities. This year, for example, the club sent $840 to the British Child War Victims' Fund, spent $209.80 in providing milk where it was needed in Newmarket, sent $100 to the Hospital for Sick Children to help in its building fund, as well as $25 to the hospital itself. The financial aid by the Lions club to town projects is a sizable part of the club's annual budget.

The club is sponsoring speech correction classes, taught by Mrs. Dorothy Bowman, among the public school children. It has guaranteed dental costs to children who need it. By working with the public health nurse, Miss Helen B. Gardiner, the club is able to get in touch with those who need its aid.

HIGH FOR THREE

Vets Enter Second Half Of League With Two Wins

By ORVILLE GANTON

Newmarket vets opened the second half of the North Yonge League schedule with a neat 6-0 win over Aurora last Thursday. VanZant and Tidman both pitched superbly. But for McCarty's clean single in the second inning, VanZant would have had a pitcher's classic—a no-hit, no-run game. Tidman allowed only three hits but four costly errors by shortstop Castle proved his undoing. S. Evans, Dillman and VanZant produced Newmarket's three hits. The fielding was not spectacular as the pitchers had the batters pretty well stymied all evening. Coach McDonald moved Stepak in to third base to replace "Scotty" Mair and "Biscuits" accepted nine chances with only one excusable bobble on a hard hit sizzler. It was good sound ball that the large crowd seemed to thoroughly enjoy. Dutch Forhan's umpiring was first-rate; his work all season has been well above par for this league.

On Tuesday in Langstaff, VanZant and Bill Bowen hooked up in another pitcher's donnybrook. Langstaff was leading 2-1 going into the sixth. Bowen then weakened and walked May and Evans. Mickey Smith, a left-handed batter, caught Langstaff's outfield flat-footed when he pushed a home run down the third base line to break up the nip-and-tuck affair. Newmarket then fell on Bowen for five runs to win 9-2. Despite the score it was a sparkling game, one of the best. Bowen struck out nine while VanZant whiffed ten. Mair and Curtis provided the fielding features. Mair raced in to make a beautiful play on Kane's bunt. The fast Thornhill club will be the attraction this evening at Stuart Scott school. It should be another bang-up ball game.

Members of the committee are: pres., Dr. C. E. VanderVoort; sec-treas., H. E. Lambert; Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, Leo Cull, Frank Bowser, R. C. Morrison, Frank T. Courtney and Fred S. Thompson.

Announcing the decision of the meeting, Dr. VanderVoort said that the need for a social centre in Newmarket, where parties and private dances could be held, where meals could be served to large numbers, where large meetings could be held and various groups in town could meet, was an acknowledged one.

"It was thought by the committee that there might be a possibility of operating the officers' mess in a manner to meet those needs," said Dr. VanderVoort. "We have made no definite decision at present and will be meeting at the end of the month to further discuss the pros and cons of such a project."

The citizens' committee sponsored an annual sports day at the camp, turning the funds over to the camp for improvements to the facilities there. With the end of the war, the citizens' committee became inactive as the troops were moved from the camp and the camp was closed.

CAMP MESS MOOTED AS SOCIAL CENTRE

The citizens' committee which had been sponsoring the Dominion Day sports event at the Newmarket military camp during the existence of the camp, decided Tuesday afternoon at a special meeting to continue for the time being, and to consider the possibility of operating the officers' mess building at the camp as a community social centre.

Game number two of the finals is up for decision at Aurora town park tonight. A win for the Redmen will give them the championship. It looks like the battle of the year.

Glenville swimming. There will be no swimming trip this Friday but next week as usual there will be the two trips on Tuesday and Friday evenings at 6 p.m., leaving from the Newmarket taxi stand. There are about two car-loads going out each time and all are enjoying themselves thoroughly. There is room out there in the pond for as many more as care to go out and if nothing more, have a late afternoon dip. It would be best if you can let us know before-hand that you plan to go, but even so, if you are there at 6 o'clock your chances will be good.

'Good Average Harvest' Said Prospect In York

Crop prospects in York county indicate a "good average harvest." W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative for the county, said this week. Recent scattered rains did a lot of good where the rain fell, said Mr. Cockburn, but there were a lot of localities which weren't touched and where the rain is badly needed.

Jack Petrie of Sharon said that there is a sore need for rain around Sharon and Ballantrae areas where potato crops are suffering from a want of moisture. "The shower that hit Newmarket Monday night didn't touch Sharon district," he said. "What we really need is an all-day or all-night rain."

Mr. Cockburn reported that the dryness is reflected in the high price of berries. "The raspberry crop has suffered this year in this area from the lack of rain," he said.

Winter wheat is practically all harvested and the cutting of spring grains is well under way, Mr. Cockburn reported.

To Start On New Cleaning Plant On Davis Dr. Soon

Albert Lindenbaum, proprietor of Capital Cleaners and Dyers, said this week that he expected to start work on his new plant within a week or ten days. Mr. Lindenbaum has purchased the land on the north side of Davis Dr. between the Dixon Pencil Co. and the canal for his new plant.

The new building will cover an area of 4,600 sq. ft., Mr. Lindenbaum said. In addition, there will be a dry cleaning room with 800 sq. ft. Mr. Lindenbaum said that the building will be constructed so as to allow an addition on the rear and a second storey should they be needed in the future.

Although the new building will be primarily for dry cleaning, Mr. Lindenbaum said he planned to bring in wet wash machinery in the future. The new plant will mean an increase in employees, he said.

CAN'T ALWAYS USE RIVER FOR SEWAGE

The complaint of Mr. G. B. Thompson of Holland Landing about the sewage in Holland River is a just one, as members of the Newmarket town council, to whom he addressed his complaint, will recognize. The town of Newmarket disposes of its sewage by dumping it into the river north of the town. When it is added to the sewage already coming down stream, Holland River takes on the appearance of an open sewer.

Mr. Thompson was told, when he appeared before the Newmarket town council, that the financing of an alternative means of sewage disposal was out of the question for a town the size of Newmarket. Mr. Thompson was also told that there was no reason for Newmarket to halt the dumping of sewage into the river as long as others were doing the same thing.

The citizens of Newmarket complain about the condition of Fairy Lake, and the odor that arises from the river in its course through town. As long as Newmarket is guilty of causing the same condition farther down stream, there can be no grounds for the complaint. As for the financing of a sewage disposal plant, what another, smaller, municipality can do, Newmarket can surely accomplish.

The town of Aurora has had a sewage disposal plant since 1931. The initial cost of the plant was $47,500. Some five miles of sewers were also laid at the same time. Additional costs for both sewers and the disposal plant since their first use is estimated at $30,000. The sewage disposal plant is being paid for over a 20-year period. The upkeep of the plant for 1945 cost the taxpayers $2,211.60, including wages.

The Aurora plant was built with relief labor and at a time when building costs were considerably less than they are now. While immediate construction of a sewage disposal plant is out of the question, planning for its construction within a year or two must be undertaken now. It is not impossible to begin laying aside a reserve to finance its construction. In good times, tax monies should be hoarded against necessary expenditures which may have to be made in bad times.

Newmarket is rapidly expanding and its services must keep abreast of that expansion. Newmarket can not long continue to dispose of its sewage by dumping it into the Holland River. Recognizing this, and planning for the provision of alternative means of disposal now will save a lot of grief in the future. The choice is before the Newmarket town council.

NO NEED NOW FOR REGISTRATION CARDS

When Canada entered the war, the government undertook to register everyone in the country 16 years or older. Although there was grumbling about "regimentation", the action was generally recognized as necessary to national security and as such tolerated by the majority of citizens. The war has been over for a year now, but the government continues its "security" precaution at the expense of $313,000 a year to the taxpayer.

There is no excuse for continuing this practice of licensing Canadians. There is no security involved now, except the security of the citizen from the threat of police methods such as are found in totalitarian states. The law says you must carry your registration card with you at all times, and to produce it when asked by the police. The nuisance value of such a practice, although considerable, is nothing compared to the threat of abuses such a law would enable it allowed to continue.

In an attempt to justify the continuance of registration cards, the minister of labor, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, told the House of Commons that registration cards were necessary: (1) So that registration records, from which much information is still being supplied, may be kept as up to date as possible; (2) The certificates are still being used for identification purposes by the national employment service and other government agencies; (3) To assist the authorities in clearing up unfinished cases and investigations of desertions from the armed forces; defaults and delinquencies under the national resources mobilization regulations, the defence of Canada regulations and other wartime controls.

The inadequacy of Mr. Mitchell's explanations becomes obvious when considered in the light of the cost to taxpayers for the maintenance of a federal licensing bureau for Canadians, and in the threat such heavy-handed bureaucracy has for individual freedom. Considered on their own merits, Mr. Mitchell's representations are equally without value. The government has other methods of collecting the small amount of information derived from registration. The national employment service issues its own identification cards, and the armed forces should have sufficient information from its own records to complete cases against deserters.

The continuance of registration cards, the counter-part of the identity cards of European police states, has no place in Canada. The federal licensing bureau for Canadians over 16 should be done away with immediately.

NOT NEW LAWS BUT ENFORCEMENT OF OLD ONES

When the federal government appointed steel plant controllers for Hamilton, Sault Ste. Marie, and Sydney, N.S., plants, the order-in-council authorizing the appointments, included penalties of $20 a day for each employee interfering with production, i.e. striking, and $500 for anyone urging employees to strike.

The order-in-council was criticized by opposition members as unfair to labor. It was pointed out that there were no provisions for penalties against the steel company should it not do its part to maintain production. The section listing the penalties was said to incorporate the principle of "forced labor", to deprive working men of "their right to strike".

There was little, if any, protest from opposition members at the complete inadequacy of the law. For example, how was it to be enforced? Every steel plant employee who is now on strike is guilty under that law but up to the time of writing, there have been no convictions. If there was no intention to uphold the law, why was it passed? Putting a law on the statute books and then ignoring it is a sure way of encouraging the contempt that is now felt for much of labor legislation.

On analysis, there was no need to pass the law. Under existing legislation, it is against the law for pickets to prevent the entry through their lines of non-striking workmen. If the government wanted a means to ensure that workmen would be allowed to continue to work in the strike-bound plants if they wished, it had only to enforce existing legislation, something which, on the record, has not been done.

Reports are carried in the daily press of clashes on the picket lines, and of holding up a mail truck at the Hamilton steel plant. These incidents constitute grounds for prosecution under existing legislation but so far, there have been no reports of charges being laid under the old laws nor under the new order-in-council.

We will continue to have strikes until a policy reconciling wages, a rising cost of living, and price ceilings is firmly laid down by the government. We will continue to have violence until the government enforces its existing legislation. We will continue to have foolish laws until the government abandons its war-born habit of government by order-in-council instead of by open debate.

In Passing
WAVE-LENGTHS
(The Saturday Night)

Judging from some of the indignant letters which we read in the daily newspapers, a portion of the Canadian public has acquired the idea that radio station CFRB is about to be taken away from its owners and operated by the CBC. This is an idea which it would not be difficult to get from some of the propaganda issued in connection with this transaction, but it has no resemblance to what is actually proposed. There will be no change in the ownership, management, programs or station power of CFRB; there will be a change in the wave-length on which it operates, and that is all.

The wave-length upon which CFRB at present operates happens to be one of six which are assigned to Canada by international agreement and which are subject to no limitation of power, because they are so different from any other wave-length in use that they cannot interfere with or be interfered with by anybody else. The international agreement requires that all such wave-lengths, to be retained by the nation to which they are assigned, must after a certain date be operated with the power of 50 kilowatts; that date has been several times postponed owing to wartime difficulties about equipment, but it is now close at hand. It is part of the fundamental policy of national broadcasting in Canada, as established by the Broadcasting Act, that all stations of this exceptional power shall be owned and operated by the CBC. Recognition of a proprietary right to a wave-length is something which has never been accorded either in the United States or in Canada. The whole usefulness of any wave-length depends absolutely upon the exercise of the sovereign power of the state, in agreement with the sovereign power of other states, to prohibit all other persons from using the same wave-length in such a way as to interfere with the person to whom the wave-length has been assigned. Thus, while the wave-length itself is not created by the state authority, its usefulness is entirely so created. It has therefore always been held that the right to use a wave-length is a privilege granted by the state, by license, and revocable by the state at any time, and all licenses are expressly granted for one year at a time and subject to cancellation for cause even within the year.

The recognition of a proprietary right to the wave-length now used by CFRB would be peculiarly illogical, since it would grant to one private owner a perpetual right to operate at an immensely greater power than can be obtained by any other private owner in Canada. If there were any real prospect of CFRB being allowed to go to 50 kilowatts (as it would have to do if it retained its present wave-length) there would be howls of protest from all the other private stations which are in competition with it. As it is, the competing stations apparently feel that it is a good idea to support CFRB in making a grievance of an action, the omission of which they would themselves regard as a grievance if the CBC were to decide to leave the wave-length to its present occupants.

ABOUT CIGARS
(The Fergus News-Record)

We do not know much about cigars—practically nothing, in fact. When we get one as a gift, we tuck it in a pocket and hand it over to some cigar smoker as soon as possible.

One of these friends usually smokes a six-cent cigar. He tells us that the last one we gave him was a sixteen-center. He put it away carefully and then, unthinkingly gave it away to somebody else, not remembering it wasn't just another six-center.

We asked a nearby editor what was the difference in cigars. He says he really doesn't know. He usually smokes one when he finishes a good meal, but they all taste just about the same to him.

"Not so," says our neighbor. "When you smoke an expensive cigar, you feel satisfied; when you smoke a cheap one, you feel sick."

Oh, well! We wouldn't know!

THE COMMON ROUND BY ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE OF INTEREST

In this age, when science is delving deep into nature and opening up almost unbelievable sources of power; when medicine and surgery are performing what would once have been deemed miracles, but which in this blasé world are accepted as a matter of course; when the churches are wakening to find a world crusade against unbelief, indifference and positive antagonism on their hands; when schools are becoming conscious of the problem child and that homes, to be real preparatory grounds for the battle of life, must be awake to the dangers of that battle, there is an increase in juvenile delinquency and juvenile crime such as never was known before.

The Institutes of Bogartown and Pine Orchard met on July 16 at the home of Mrs. Charles Greenwood and there saw a movie on the effects of beverage alcohol. It was presented by Rev. Johnson of the temperance federation and had been shown previously that day at the Gormley and Wesley Vacation Bible schools.

It was the story of a boy and girl, high school age, who, on learning that a boy with whom they had spent the previous evening had been run down and seriously injured by a car, went to their doctor to see if he could tell them the extent of his injuries.

At first they did not tell the doctor that they had all been drinking, but eventually they did and the doctor described the effects of alcohol on the system. There was a gradual dulling of all the senses so that nothing was seen in its true perspective, a sapping of bodily and mental energy which left the victim unable to cope with traffic or to make decisions—in fact induced partial incapacitation.

The boy and girl told the doctor that they had persuaded their friend to drink, against his inclination. The doctor was called away then to operate on the injured lad and his two friends went home sadder and wiser.

Mr. Johnson said that there were 20,000 alcoholics in Ontario alone and these films were being shown in the schools as an educative preventative measure.

Also at the meeting was Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, Newmarket, to speak to us on home and school, especially as regarded citizenship. She told us that Home and School Association was founded in 1916 by Mrs. Cortice and has 60,000 members in Canada.

She said that now that we are, as never before, citizens of Canada, we must be prepared to assume our responsibilities toward her. Canada is growing up one of the strongest countries in the world with her resources practically intact.

One of our troubles is that we are not conscious of our responsibilities, especially women, so many of whom do not vote at all, or if they do, are apt to vote as the male members of the family do. She said if Canadian women took their responsibilities in this respect seriously, they could get whatever they wanted.

Rev. L. James Lake,
The Gospel Tabernacle,

By E. M. Bounds

The Gospel moves with slow and timid pace when the saints are not at their prayers early and late and long.

We put it as our most sober judgment that the great need of the church in this and all ages is men of such commanding faith, of such unsullied holiness, of such marked spiritual vigor and consuming zeal, that their prayers, faith, lives, and ministry will be of such a radical and aggressive force as to work spiritual revolutions.

Natural ability and educational advantages do not figure as factors in this matter; but capacity for faith, the ability to pray, the power of thorough consecration, the ability of self-litleness, an absolute losing of one's self in God's glory, and an ever-present and insatiable yearning and seeking after all the fullness of God—men who can set the church ablaze for God; not in a noisy, showy way, but with an

Jack, seven years old, shares his room with his four-year-old brother, Billy. At night Jack wants all the lights out after he has finished the comics and is ready for bed. Sometimes he has a little trouble with Billy about this detail. Billy usually has just one more picture book to look at before he wants the lights out on his side of the room.

One night Jack made a decision: "I'll tell you what, Billy, tomorrow night you cut out your picture books before time for bed and I'll cut out my comics." That sounded like a wonderful idea to Billy. So it happened—during Billy's afternoon rest period the next day, he was happily busy, literally cutting out his picture books. What was once a lovely set of child's picture stories became just empty covers with ragged edges denoting the fact that they once held pages.

"Cut out" to Billy meant using scissors, which was one of his favorite pastimes. It was the very first time Billy had heard these two words used as a slang expression. This was also the first time Billy had been punished for doing something Jack told him to do. Afterwards, mother was very sorry she had been so cross with Billy; but when she saw him deliberately cutting pages from his very beautiful and expensive set of picture books, she simply pounced on him. The whole situation was very confusing to young Billy. He was very fond of his picture books and was really quite unhappy to realize he had ruined them. However, the pages were saved and with Jack's aid and mother's help using yards and yards of transparent tape, all the pages were eventually returned to their respective covers.

Children are very literal. When vocabularies are limited as they are with young children, extra caution should be used in order to prevent misunderstandings. Our English language is filled with expressions which are in common usage; yet, which literally do not convey correct messages.

intense and quiet heat that melts and moves everything for God.

God can work wonders if He can get a suitable man. Men can work wonders if they can get God to lead them.

That which has been done in spiritual matters can be done again, and be better done. This was Christ's view, for He said: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on Me, he works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto My Father." The past has not exhausted the possibilities nor the demands for doing great things for God. The church that is dependent on its past history for its miracles of power and faith is a fallen church.

Letter To The Editor

The Editor, The Era and Express: On behalf of Emory Farm Radio Forum, I would like the privilege of presenting some facts about radio broadcasting that are being neglected these days. In the first place, let me make it clear that we do not want to see CFRB injured or treated unfairly, but we do not think that the taking over of the particular wave-length now used by CFRB infringes in any way on that station's rights. Under the Havana convention there were six wave-lengths allotted to Canada on the understanding that they would be used for high-powered stations of 50 watts. One of these wave-lengths happens to be used by CFRB, and Canada must either put a 50-watt station on it or lose it. Parliament decided some years ago the policy that private stations should not have more than five watts. CFRB is one of a few that previously had ten watts, CFRB is being allowed to remain a ten-watt station.

It is therefore necessary for the CBC to occupy the CFRB wave-length with a 50-watt station. CFRB is being offered the choice of several other wave-lengths, and will be able to do just as good a job as ever. The wave-lengths do not belong to the stations that use them, but are public property. There are only a limited number of wave-lengths available to Canada, and the only sensible course is that these wave-lengths should remain under the public control and be used to the best advantage of the Canadian people.

There are arguments on both sides of the question, of course, but there are very good reasons for the action which parliament took in deciding that the half-dozen high-powered stations should be publicly-owned.

There are certain public service jobs in radio which a private station either cannot do or has no interest in doing. Take, for example, Farm Radio Forum. This broadcast goes on the air every Monday night during the winter months without cost to the farm people of Canada. The broadcast is sponsored by the Canadian Association for Adult Education and the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. There is no revenue to the CBC out of this broadcast, and there is no commercial sponsor. If there were no CBC, would such a broadcast be possible?

If there were no Farm Radio Forum, York county would not have the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association. This co-operative artificial insemination club was started a year ago as a result of organization work done by Emory and Concord Radio Farm Forums. The club now has about 170 members, keeps seven of Canada's best purebred Holstein bulls, and is servicing 2,000 cows in York county. We are about to extend our operations to Simcoe county. This club is rendering great service to the dairy industry of York county, and as I mentioned, owes its origin to Farm Radio Forum.

Then there is the Citizens' Forum, and such popular broadcasts as "Neighborhood News" in co-operation with the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and "Sports College" in co-operation with the Y.M.C.A. "Sports College" is the most popular broadcast of this kind on the air today, on any station, public or private, Canadian or United States.

I should also mention that private stations have put on the air propaganda which has not been in the public interest. I refer to the unfair and untrue spot announcements of the Income Tax Payers' Association which have been broadcast over privately-owned stations in recent months. They were part of an attempt to destroy farmers' co-operatives. Farm people make up about one-third of the Canadian population but they get only about an eighth of the national income. They have been forced to develop co-operatives to protect themselves against this unfair treatment. But there are people who would destroy these co-operatives which farm people have struggled so long and so hard to build.

The CBC does a lot of public service jobs that private stations could not afford to do, or do not want to do. Private stations make mistakes but they also do public service jobs, and we appreciate the good work that they do. However, we should recognize that it is the CBC that does the major public service broadcasting. With our CBC stations, and our private stations, including such good stations as CFRB, we are well served by radio in Canada. But let us not make the mistake of destroying the CBC.

Yours sincerely,
Russell Rowntree, Pres.,
Emory Farm Radio Forum.

DOWN THE CENTRE

By AB. HULSE

"I'm regressed," quote and unquote, sez Jack McDonald, coach of the Newmarket Vets softball club as we relaxed in the rear end of a Gray Coach bus. "Cee-gars" was minus his trusty stogie and was burning up the fags en route to Toronto to buy equipment. "Taint funny, McGee. My boys win 23 out of 28 games this year. My boy, Billy Van-Zant, wins 20 games without a loss and all we get are some skimpy write-ups. We're leading the North Yonge circuit and win the tournament at Zephyr and Mount Albert and we feel like the lost legion."

Upon promising to ratify the situation we managed to get in a few words and a bit of inside dope about the Vets. First of all it's one big, happy family. "Never saw guys so pally or eager to play ball. We've got a good mob behind us too. We raised about $300 for sports equipment and financially it's not so bad, but we're not wasting a dime either," Mac informed us.

The average coffee pot take is from $12 to $15 which keeps the wolf from the club equipment and ain't hay for a small town. The club is entered in the intermediate O.S.A. playdowns (B section), and has signed Ed Tidman as an addition to the mound staff. If Aurora wins in C, however, they won't be able to use Tidman. New uniforms will make them the snazziest outfit in the district. "Well, not new," explained Mac, "but they are the uniforms used by the camp and they're new to us. Purple and gold silk shirts, baseball pants and new caps." We understand they were a gift to the boys and they're liable to see a bit of travelling. First round opposition present that old bug-bear, the New Toronto district. This time it's the Lakeshore Canadian Legion. (From the old days the fans will remember the Ecclestone brothers and St. Leo's.)

Jack figures that his outfit should have been grouped with Barrie or Orillia but looks forward to seeing them in the first round. Worried a bit about his team's hitting, McDonald was out to buy some lighter bats. "They're swinging too slow and lighter bats will do the trick. Say, the infield of Smith-Evans-Mair-Evans is beginning to really click and as to that outfield of Gibney, Stepak and Legge, just show me a better one. They haven't missed a fly ball all year," he says. Doug May and Toddy Mosier were just about as good as any receivers in the league and Art Dobbie and Pete Dillman gave him smart relief support. "Had to turn down a couple of smart players, too, but they just wouldn't fit into the club spirit," Mac says.

It's one for all and all for one in the Vets' camp and that's the real reason they're clicking. Well harmony was one thing the rotund one always could produce and if that counts when the chips are down, the Vets will go a long way.

Harvey Gibney, centre fielder and captain, is the veteran of the team and while not hitting as of yore, he's still plenty good. Irwin Stepak and Norm Legge, two Johnny-come-latelies to Newmarket softball, have done surprisingly well. Stepak played a lot of ball overseas with the R.C.A.F. and Legge has been powdering the pill in satisfactory style. Doug May and Mickey Smith are the next nearest in point of playing years and from there in the team scales downward in experience to Mosier and Dillman.

Mount Albert Canadian Legion boys are keeping their fingers crossed and hoping for fair weather on Monday. Six teams are entered in the softball tournament which will be played for the George Allison Trophy, valued at $25, and cash prizes of $20 and $10. The cup will be retained for a year by the winner and can be permanently secured by scoring three wins in a row.

Sutton, Zephyr, Mount Albert, Aurora, Newmarket Vets and No. 1 R.C.A.F. from the Wanless Park, Senior B circuit, are entered. The draw has already been made; with the result that Aurora plays Vets, Sutton meets Mount Albert and Zephyr and the R.C.A.F. meet in the first round. The draw takes place for the semi-finals and the team getting the bye meets the loser of the semi-finals match to qualify for the final bracket. No team will win the tournament having played only two games.

Tug-of-war, exhibition matches by top-ranking stars from the Toronto Tennis club, the Irish Regiment pipe band and a monster dance in the evening are but a few of the features billed. It should be a bang-up day.

Incidentally, you might as well jot down a date for Labor Day at Aurora where the Aurora Canadian Legion is hard at work readying the first sports day to be held in the town for many years. The complete plans will be announced shortly.

The wise guys laughed when Hope entered the Lake Simcoe softball circuit, but backed by some top-grade pitching by Joint McComb and with the team improving all the time, the Hope laddies are finalists for the title, having bopped over Keswick from the northern section and being ready to meet either Willow Beach or Mount Albert. The league has enjoyed a splendid season and the entire ten teams had a lot of fun along the way to the finals, with much credit being due President Percy Mahoney and his associates.

Nels Findlay has secured his release from Amalgamated in the Dentonia senior B circuit and has applied for an O.K. by the O.S.A. which will likely qualify him for the intermediate C series, providing Thornhill comes through with a win in that bracket in the North Yonge league. The winners likely journey northward in the first round.

Newmarket ladies, who are currently playing red-hot softball and outclassing the rest of the district field, are entering the P.W.S.U. intermediate playdowns according to reports. The canal-town girls will find plenty of good opposition there but won't be undaunted a bit by reputations. It will be close to September before the Ontario playdowns in the ladies' section start.

A MESSAGE FOR THOSE WHO NEED TRAINED WORKERS

AN ARMY INSTRUMENT MECHANIC HAD TO BE GOOD!

Only one of 216 Army trades, the instrument mechanic, among other things, had to make optical, electrical or mechanical repairs to anti-aircraft fire control equipment or to any field instrument. He had to be able to use fine hand tools, watchmakers' lathes and check and calibrate instruments from a standard. He had to be able to follow blueprints, harden and temper metal parts and tools, know mathematics including trigonometry and have a knowledge of elementary electricity and optics.

Today

He brings specialized training to industry...

In common with thousands of other ex-servicemen and women the instrument mechanic has a real contribution to offer Canadian industry and business. World War II was a mechanized war. Canada's soldiers, sailors and airmen, represent many hundreds of industrial skills. You will find competent journeymen among those discharged. You will find many thousands of others who have basic skills which can be converted to civilian production with additional training.

Investigate the training-on-the-job provisions of Canada's re-establishment programme. Under this, the Dominion Government adds to the wages you pay ex-servicemen and ex-servicewomen while they are learning. You can secure complete details through the National Employment Service, the Department of Veterans Affairs, or Canadian Vocational Training.

Men and women for the services were carefully selected on enlistment. Service experience, training, discipline and the lessons of organization add greatly to their value. Whether tradesman or not, the veteran makes the ideal employee. Canada offers none better.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Evidence 'Mixed,' Dismiss Liquor Charge

Magistrate J. E. Pritchard, K.C., dismissed a charge of illegal possession of liquor, laid against Ivor Taylor Frances, Toronto, by Constable Carl Morton, North Gwillimbury twp., in magistrate's court in Newmarket on Friday.

Constable Morton stated that he had seized a bottle of rum in Frances' car at Riverdale Park and that the bottle was unsealed. He said that it had been sealed by the police, and last week was sent to the provincial department for analysis. He stated there were three men in the car who denied ownership and that they had brought Frances out of the dance hall and he had admitted ownership.

Constable Wm. Hill, who was present at the time, stated that when Frances had been brought out of the dance hall he was in a drunken condition and his arm was in a cast. He could not identify Frances as the man who admitted ownership of the liquor.

In his own defence, Frances stated that he and two friends had come from a Legion picnic at Woodbridge and that they had not been drinking. He stated that he never left the car but one of his companions had gone into the dance hall. He stated that he had not had an accident since February, when he was paralyzed from the hips down as a result of an aeroplane accident overseas. In reply to a question of Magistrate Pritchard, he stated that the constable had asked for his driver's and owner's licenses but did not ask for his registration card.

Magistrate Pritchard, after hearing the evidence of Clifford Glanfield, Frances' companion, stated he thought there was some mix-up in the constable's evidence and dismissed the charge against Frances.

Frank Sackfield, Toronto, and Oliver Lloyd, Toronto, were each fined $15 and costs on charges of illegal possession of liquor to which they pleaded guilty, and the liquor was confiscated. The charge against Sackfield was laid by Constable Heath Hamilton, the one against Lloyd by Constable George Foster.

Allan Jones, Aurora, was fined $40 and costs on a charge of careless driving and $10 and costs for driving without a permit. He pleaded guilty to the charges. Provincial Constable Wm. Melbourne stated he had investigated an accident four miles south of Bradford on Highway No. 11, on July 14. He stated the car had been proceeding south, had gone to the east, travelled along the shoulder of the road for a distance, then left the ground altogether and had landed on its nose. He stated the defendant had been drinking and that the car was a new one.

In his defence, Jones said that Earl Scarlett, the owner of the car, had gone to sleep in the back seat and he had "sort of dozed off" himself. Scarlett was fined $10 and costs on a charge of permitting an unlicensed driver to drive his car.

Ray Anderson, King twp., who was remanded two weeks ago on a careless driving charge, was given a further remand until September 6.

Wilfred Connor, R. R. 2, Newmarket, was fined $5 and costs for failing to have sufficient lights on a commercial motor vehicle. The charge was laid by Constable Melbourne.

August Sherwood, Pefferlaw, was fined $15 and costs or one month on a charge of illegal possession of liquor, to which he pleaded guilty, laid by Constable Foster.

Grant Preston was remanded one week on a charge of causing a disturbance at a dance hall at Musselman's Lake.

Carl Duffis, Toronto, and Duncan Carmichael, Woodville, were each fined $10 and costs on charges of illegal possession of liquor. Constable Foster laid the information in both charges.

POTTAGEVILLE

Tall Tales Of '49 Feature Farewell To Emmersons

On Saturday, a group of 100 friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Emmerson to bid them goodbye as they are soon leaving Pottageville.

During the evening a floor lamp and an occasional chair with matching hassock were presented to the departing couple. Mr. Harold Stone read the address and spoke of the good service the Emmersons have always rendered to the people of Pottageville, their store becoming a landmark in the village. On behalf of the neighbors, he wished them every success in their new home. Mr. Emmerson made a suitable reply and both he and his wife were deeply touched at the thoughtfulness of their friends. During the evening recorded music was played over a public address system and bagpipes were played by Mr. A. Elder.

A sumptuous repast was served by the ladies of Pottageville, and later Mr. Stone caused a lot of merriment when he told a story of an imaginary prospecting trip that he and Mr. Emmerson had taken in the year 1849 when they had unearthed Pottageville. In a joking manner he brought in the names of several of the older residents. All present took this as good-natured fun.

In return, Mr. Stone was presented with a shower of comic gifts, and also a white shirt and a tie. Everyone declared the evening a big success.

Mount Albert Earns Right To Enter Finals

With an overflow crowd watching the game, Mount Albert downed Willow Beach 9-3 on Monday evening and earned the right to enter the finals of the Lake Simcoe Softball League. Keswick was neutral ground for the third game, each team having won on its home grounds. Several times the umpires, Peters of Newmarket and Holborn of Sutton, had to stop the game and clear the spectators from the base lines.

Willow Beach went down battling and played good enough ball to win lots of games, but a well pitched game by Mitchell and all-round smart play by both infield and outfield gave Mount Albert a victory which they clearly deserved. They scored three runs in the first inning and were always in front.

The finals are the exclusive property of the southern division of the league because Hope eliminated Keswick team, on the same diamond, on July 25. Unlike the other game, the winners came from behind in the last two innings to grab a game which appeared to be all Keswick for five innings.

The score was 10-3 against them when Hope went to bat in the sixth inning and scored five runs. Keswick added one in their half and still looked like winners. But the visitors produced seven in the final inning and Keswick could add only two, so that the final score was 15-13. There was also a big crowd for this game.

Miss Edith Storer, soprano soloist at Eglinton United church, Toronto, will sing at Keswick United church Sunday morning. The evening service will also be at the church this Sunday.

Mrs. Addie Hoover, Holt, is staying with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Prosser.

Traded School For Farm, Event Marked In Parody

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pollock, who were married July 20, a social evening and shower of gifts was held in the township hall on July 29.

A great array of useful and valuable gifts testified to the high regard in which the bride and groom are held in this community, as well as at Roche's Point, Ravenshoe, Mount Pleasant and Keswick. At the two former places, Mrs. Pollock, as Betty Mahoney, taught school.

To open the program, Mrs. Kenneth Hunter sang two solos, with her sister, Miss Beth King, as accompanist.

When Mr. and Mrs. Pollock had been seated behind a table on the platform, the first few gifts were brought to them in school bags by school children. As the gifts were laid on the table the audience sang a parody of an old song written by Mrs. V. L. Atchison:

"School days, school days, Are now replaced by farm days; Canning and baking and chicks to tend,

Sweeping and scrubbing and clothes to mend. Instead of a teacher with chalk and book,

You're now an egg-grader, dish-washer and cook. For Russell and farm life school days you forsook.

Our best wishes to both of you."

Speaking on behalf of the audience which filled the hall, Mrs. Erwin Winch, Mrs. W. A. King and Roy Pollock conveyed verbally the good wishes which the gifts represented. Mr. and Mrs. Pollock both replied suitably.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

OTTAWA LETTER

by

"Jack" Smith, M.P.
North York

A step to relieve the farm labor shortage in Canada was made by the government this week when the acting prime minister, Hon. Louis St. Laurent announced that 4,000 single Polish war veterans who had fought with the Allied Armies, would be brought to Canada. The 4,000 will be selected by Canadian immigration officials, who will go to Europe to make the selection. Only those experienced and qualified in agriculture will be selected, and one provision of their entry to Canada is that they agree to engage as farm workers for a period of at least two years. They will be placed on Canadian farms through the national employment service.

The budget was finally adopted this week with a substantial majority, and amendments by opposition groups failed to gain any appreciable support. Resolutions implementing budget proposals are now being passed, and these and departmental estimates constitute the main business remaining for this session.

The deliberations of the industrial relations committee are attracting much interest here this week. I have attended many of the sessions and while interesting information is brought to light, there is much doubt as to whether or not the committee will be able to achieve its objective and settle the strike and set a pattern for the settlement of all labor disputes in Canada.

The steel strike is a serious blow to national recovery and every day it continues adds to the difficulties and shortages being experienced by the Canadian people. We all recall the lesson in our school readers about the importance of the horse-shoe nail which was lost. Now Canada's economy is struggling to withstand the loss, or rather, the critical shortage of nails. Despite the fact that we have been producing nails in greater quantity than ever before, they have been in very short supply, and now with strikes on, they are almost off the market. We face a situation where our whole building program may bog down for lack of nails.

The minister of reconstruction, Hon. C. D. Howe, yesterday outlined to the House of Commons the government's housing program. He stated that he anticipated "a critical period" in the late fall of 1946, when some of the relief now afforded by the occupation of summer residents will be lacking. Following are some of the highlights of the enlarged program to be provided in the amendments to the national housing act, the resolution of which was passed and the bill introduced and given first reading:

In the calendar year 1945, 47,000 dwelling units were completed. Indications are that in the year following V-E Day, the target of 50,000 units was substantially met. Subtracted from the next year's requirement could be 50,000 to 60,000 units completed during the year ending March 31, 1947. For the 12 months ending March 31, 1948, about 80,000 should be built and 100,000 in each of the following years.

In the spring of 1947, an immediate housing deficit of some 180,000 units could be anticipated, or a worsening of the situation by some 20 percent.

Centralization of all federal housing activities under central mortgage and housing corporation was being effected to create a unified operating group in the housing field.

Altogether some 480,000 units should be built during the five years ending March, 1952, to meet requirements.

Greater facility would be provided under the new program for the making of joint loans for construction on farms. The period within which a joint loan to home owners may be repaid would be increased from 20 years to 25 years.

Steps were being taken to increase production of building materials, especially those of a critical nature.

The priorities rating system established March 12, 1946, was intended to channel building materials which are in short supply into government or government approved low or moderate cost housing projects, and to assist veterans to secure needed materials. In 1946, approximately 20,000 housing units would be assisted by priority regulations.

This week, Mr. Mitchell gave three reasons why national registration cards, issued during the war, still were in use: So that the registration records from which much information still is being supplied may be kept as up to date as possible; the certificates still are being used for identification purposes by the national employment service and other government agencies; to assist the authorities in clearing up unfinished cases and investigations of desertions from the armed forces; defaults and delinquencies under the national resources mobilization regulations, the defence of Canada regulations, and other wartime controls.

Mr. Isaac Pegg finished harvesting and threshed on Tuesday.

WIN FIRST LACROSSE LEAGUE START, 4-3

Aurora midgets won their first league start in the North York minor lacrosse group last Thursday as they edged out Woodbridge 4-3, in a well-played game. The Aurora kids had the needed spark to break a tie late in the fourth quarter, Bill Patrick getting the winning goal.

Aurora took a 2-0 lead in the first period, Orval Lawson and Bill Mundell being the marksmen. Bill Longhouse reduced the lead by one, but Charlie Southwood got that back to leave the score 3-1 at the long rest.

Neither team tallied in the third session, but Woodbridge quickly tied the count in the fourth as the Lewis Brothers, Wendall and Fred, made dashes down from their defence posts.

Mike Miller and Charlie Rowntree handled the whistle and the game, while rugged, was exceptionally clean. Patrick, Mundell and Flicker played strong games for Aurora, with Longhouse and Brown starting for the losers.

Aurora: goal, Flicker; def., H. Patrick, Davidson; rover, Mundell; c, Patrick; homes, O. Lawson, Loring Doolittle; subs, Southwood, Attridge, Holman, C. Lawson.

Woodbridge: goal, Brown; def., W. Lewis, F. Lewis; rover, Kearney; c, Lovett; homes, Wallace, Longhouse; subs, Fotherbee, Boynton, Raven, Rice, Ross, Wood.

JRS. TO MEET NEWM'KET IN LIONS FINALS

Aurora juniors, by dint of a never-say-die spirit, good pitching by Jack Andrews and some timely hitting, worked their way to the final round of the North York junior baseball play-offs against Newmarket by polishing off the first-place Milliken squad. Aurora took the first game at home 6-3, and clinched the series at Milliken last Friday with a 7-5 win.

The latter contest saw Aurora score three in the first with Milliken answering right back with the same number of runs, and shelling Keith Kyle from the hilltop. Aurora went two up in the fourth, only to have the homestays tie it in the fifth. In the sixth, Aurora scored twice, while Andrews blanked Milliken.

In the first of the seventh Aurora pushed over three more runs but the game was called with the score going back to the end of the sixth. Loring and Gar Doolittle, Ron Simmons, Bill McGhee and Mickey Sutton got timely hits, while Kyle in the outfield pulled off several sensational fielding plays. The hits were about even. Sellers at second was one of the standouts for Milliken, while Rows hurled a good game and was worthy of a better fate.

Aurora: Sutton, Simmons, Kyle, G. Doolittle, Smith, L. Doolittle, McGhee, McDonald, Holman, Andrews.

Milliken: Proenko, Minton, Sellers, Rows, Jewitt, Petch, Gant, Stansbury.

PURCHASES "CHATEAU"

Wing Commander Norman Bretz, D.F.C., Toronto, has purchased "The Chateau" from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen, who will be moving to Toronto this month. Wing Commander Bretz, well-known Canadian airman, was an intimate friend of the late Wing Commander Lloyd V. Chaddburn, D.S.O. and bar, D.F.C., son of Mrs. Allen.

WHAT WAS THAT?

By GOLDEN GLOW

Every so often you'll hear somebody say, "What on earth was that?" and more than likely it will be only a bird. You know birds can make very weird noises. For instance, did you ever hear the queer, growly noise made by the night hawk? It is the wind through the wings when it swoops suddenly for a mosquito. You will hear it quite often in an evening for that is when this mosquito hawk mostly gets busy.

Then, there is the extra queer sound the mourning dove makes. It is well named for it is as if the poor thing was really mourning. But don't be too sorry for it, because it doesn't mean it. It is just the natural way it calls to its mate. The flicker, too, can get you bothered, just as a woodpecker will with its constant drumming—no I should not say drumming, for that is what the partridges do when they flap their wings in rhythm. The woodpecker pecks and hammers.

But what about the hoot owl with its "who-o-o-o-o", in the middle of the night just outside your window? Now that is a weird sound, unless, of course, you know what it is.

And it isn't only birds that can make funny noises. Just listen to a tiny chipmunk that is mad at something or somebody—you'd think it was a good loud sewing machine running at top speed. But of all weird sounds, the howling of a hound when a train goes through in the middle of the night is the worst. You'd swear it was some soul in torment unless you knew what it was. Queer how much worse all these sound in the middle of the night!

NEW PUMP ARRIVES, INSTALL IN AUGUST

The new pump for the Aurora waterworks has arrived from the manufacturers in Galt. Ordered in January, working conditions and supplies made it impossible to secure the pump earlier. The cost to the municipality is $1,080 and it will be installed early next month. The addition of the new pump will improve existing pumping facilities and also provide emergency pumping facilities which have been lacking.

DAUGHTER OF FORMER RECTOR HERE DIES

The death occurred at her residence, 148 Dunn Ave., Toronto, on Monday of Miss Kathleen Mussen, daughter of the late Rev. Horace E. Mussen, one-time rector of Trinity Anglican church, and sister of Mrs. R. M. Hillary, Aurora. Born and educated here, she moved with her parents to Collingwood in 1900, when Rev. Mussen exchanged parishes with Rev. L. H. Kirby. She had resided in Toronto for many years. Interment was at All Saints cemetery, Collingwood, on Wednesday.

Legion Plans Carnival, Sports, On Labor Day

Aurora Branch 385, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., announces that it will have a field day and carnival Monday, Sept. 2. Not since the early 30's has an event of a similar nature been staged in town. A committee of John Sisman, Stan. Walker and Ab. Hulise convene the event, and other committees are being named.

A softball tournament, girls' softball match, archery, tug-of-war, yo-yo contest and exhibition, baby show, open air concert, horse-shoe pitching contest, tricycle and children's races, and other novel events are being carded with a street dance planned to wind up the evening. The midway and carnival games will present many new novelties, and there will be all sorts of amusements for children and adults.

Two other events have been announced by the Aurora branch.

On Tuesday, Aug. 13, a bingo will be held in the Aurora arena, which is capable of holding a large crowd in comfort. The prizes have been obtained and are now on display in the window of Central Cleaners on Yonge St. The event is convened by Gardner Lloyd and Alfred Bolsby.

On Sunday, Sept. 8, the colors purchased for the Aurora branch will be officially presented to the branch by the Aurora fire brigade, and a dedication ceremony will take place either in the arena or in the park with branches from out of town and prominent legion officials present.

LEAGUE TO MEET

The regular meeting of Aurora Branch 385, Canadian Legion, will be held in Aurora high school on Wednesday, Aug. 7, at 8 p.m. Veterans who wish to join the legion or who have not yet been initiated are urged to be present. An important business session is on the agenda of interest to all veterans as well as to the members of the branch.

THREE LEAGUE GAMES LEFT FOR COMBINES

Lacrosse games scheduled for the month of August in the intermediate section of the North York lacrosse league previous to the play-offs are: Aug. 7, Woodbridge vs. Combines; Aug. 14, Combines vs. Maple; Aug. 23, Maple vs. Combines.

The first-place team will receive a bye and the other two teams will meet in a home and home series. The final series will be a best three of five, the winner going into the O.L.A. intermediate series.

Combines will maintain their regular Friday schedule with the exception of this Friday when a junior game will be played. Games have been booked with Midland and Huntsville which will be opponents in the first round O.L.A. play-offs previous to meeting the North York winners.

Install Culverts Only On Township Roads

King township clerk, Harold Rose has pointed out to The Era and Express that the item concerning the installation of culverts by the township at a nominal fee upon request applies to the roads of the township and not to the new highway. The provisions enacted by a recent by-law were already in effect for highways running through the township, so the new by-law now extends this privilege to all taxpayers facing on any township road.

SMITH BRILLIANT AS COMBINES WIN 5-3

Combines returned to Aurora arena after an absence of two weeks to turn in a standout lacrosse game against the leading Woodbridge club, which saw the southerners lose out 5-3. It was easily the best game of the year, and Gordy Smith, in the Combines' net, was brilliant in victory, turning aside shot after shot. Bill Cox at the other end likewise played in sensational style. Only four penalties were handed out by referees James and Hulise.

The first quarter went scoreless, but play moved up in the second. After Woodbridge had held command of the play for the best half of the period, Combines struck fast, Hughie Kerr and Scotty Johnston doing the honors. Bill Norton, cagey Woodbridge veteran, scored for Woodbridge in the third, only to have Johnston and Jeff Elliott tally in quick succession. Elliott Rowntree reduced the lead to two as the period ended.

In the last quarter, Bill Norton gave Combines' supporters a fright as he scored again, and Woodbridge narrowly missed getting the equalizer. With two minutes to go, Scotty Johnston scored the clincher, his third counter of the night on a brilliant solo effort.

Combines played without the services of Ray Burton, who suffered a rib injury earlier in the week. Cleve and Harry Burton, Elliott, Johnston, Wark and McKenzie along with Smith, all were going at top speed. Norton, Son Rowntree, Castator and Cox were the Woodbridge luminaries.

Combines Bow To Scarboro In Exhibition Game 9-6

Scarboro intermediates defeated Combines 9-6 on Tuesday night in a sparkling exhibition game at Aurora arena. The visitors looked as powerful as any club to show here this week, and produced a rugged running game that had the fans on their feet most of the night.

Down 4-1 at one stage in the first, Combines drew to within one goal by the first quarter, and tied the count early in the second. A fluke goal by Fewster, which saw a rolling ball find the net with Smith out of the crease, gave the visitors the edge and they made it 6-4 at the half. It was 8-4 at the three-quarter mark, and 9-5 as the whistle ended the game.

Combines had previously defeated Scarboro by one goal away from home but were minus McKenzie and Ray Burton for this occasion. Harry Sutton of Aurora made his first appearance of the year with Combines and turned in a nice effort.

Sockett with four goals, Ward (2), Hurd and Beer in the nets were brilliant for the visitors. Jeff Elliott (3) and Hugh Kerr (2) were best for Combines.

Former Resident Here, Mrs. Ford Butler Dies

Funeral services were held last Wednesday for Mrs. Ford Butler, Toronto, for many years an Aurora resident. Born Laura Mabel Apted, she came to Aurora as a bride with her husband, Dr. Ford Butler, Sr., in the late 90's, and she and her husband resided here until around ten years ago when Dr. Butler sold his practice and retired to Toronto.

While in Aurora, Mrs. Butler was active in the affairs of the community and she had a host of friends here. Surviving are her husband, one son, Dr. Ford "Dooley" Butler, and one daughter, Mrs. Reg. Cowan (Vera), Toronto. Interment was at Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Nurse In September Promise To V.O.N. Committee Here

A Victorian Order nurse for Aurora by September 1 now seems definitely assured. Mrs. L. C. Lee, the president of the local V.O.N. organization, has announced that Miss Elizabeth Smellie, chief nurse of the Victorian Order, has told the local committee that a graduate nurse will be ready to take over locally on that date.

The membership drive in Aurora, which has been conducted quietly the past few weeks, has resulted in over 200 persons enrolling, indicating the wide support the movement has in Aurora. Those who intend to become members but have not been reached by the committee should communicate with either Mrs. Crawford Rose or Mrs. Lee. It is felt that because of holidays, the present membership represents only about half the number of Aurora people who will wish to join this organization.

The town of Aurora, by vote of council, has assured the committee in charge that at least $500 from the town treasury will be available to care for the initial charges. The T. Sisman Shoe Co. and the Collis Leather Co. have been approached by the committee and both industries have indicated that they are interested and willing to use the services of a V.O.N. nurse as a safety measure in their plants and for the general good of their employees.

A letter has been addressed to the Aurora public school board by the local committee asking if the board is interested in securing the services of a V.O.N. nurse for public health nursing in the school. The letter was sent to the board in July but no reply has yet been received. A favorable reply from the board, it is felt by the local committee, would ensure the financial success of the plan.

"A V.O.N. nurse is now definitely assured for Aurora. We can look forward to her arrival in the fall when she will be on duty," Mrs. Lee stated.

HAS OPERATION

Bert Lawson, member of Aurora midget lacrosse team, underwent an appendix operation this week. He is progressing favorably.

PLAY IN TORONTO

Aurora Lions Boys' band will play in the Labor Day parade in Toronto on Sept. 2 and in the evening is booked to perform at Bolton.

NEWMARKET LEADS NORTH YONGE LOOP

The balance of the schedule for the North Yonge softball league finds the following games carded:

Thurs., Aug. 1: Thornhill vs. Newmarket, Lansing vs. Langstaff;

Tues., Aug. 6, Newmarket vs. Aurora, Langstaff vs. Thornhill; Wed., Aug. 7, Thornhill vs. Lansing;

Thurs., Aug. 15, Aurora vs. Thornhill, Langstaff vs. Newmarket;

Tues., Aug. 20, Newmarket vs. Thornhill, Langstaff vs. Aurora.

At present, Newmarket leads the league followed by Thornhill, Lansing, Aurora and Langstaff in that order. Tuesday's game with Newmarket here comes as one of the biggest of the year. The first four teams will play off following the end of the regular schedule.

MOVE TO TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Nels. Anderson have moved to Oak Ridges. Their apartment will be occupied by WO Douglas Knowles and family of Trenton, the former occupants. WO Knowles enlisted with the permanent force of the R.C.A.F. but is now returning to civilian life.

ANSWERS FIVE CALLS

Aurora fire brigade answered five outside calls for grass and bush fires in King and Whitchurch townships last week. Little damage resulted from any of the fires.

MUCH ACTIVITY IN BUILDING MARKED HERE

Ernest Faiers has obtained a building permit to erect a new residence at the foot of Connaught St. Duncan McDonald is named as contractor. Dr. G. A. C. Guntion has his new garage with an apartment dwelling above well underway and if materials are available it will be completed next month.

Ivan Daniel's new service station on Yonge St. north is coming along nicely and will be open for business some time in August.

Walter Dunning is building a new residence on Kennedy St. and the foundations are now being laid.

Miss Lois Spooner of the staff of Aurora high school has the foundation for a new residence in on the north side of Kennedy St. H. H. Patterson, Unionville, is the contractor.

Nearing completion are the homes of Arnold Miller on Wells St., Percy Allen on Mosley St. and William Large on Temperance St. All three dwellings have been delayed in construction by a shortage of building supplies.

Four dwellings on Tyler St., under construction by John Bowser of the Aurora Building Co., will be completed by around August 15 and ready for occupancy. All four have been rented for some weeks and the tenants are eagerly awaiting the time they can move into them. Mr. Bowser has recently acquired lots on Lepper St., but it is not thought likely that work will commence on the proposed homes until next year.

The new factory for Universal Insulations, being built by Deputy-Reeve Asa A. Cook, is fast taking shape. The walls and cement work have been completed and the high tower has been erected, roofed and finished with insul brick. If materials continue to be available, it should be completed early in September.

Midgets Battle Out 2-2 Tie With Combines

Minus the services of Bert Lawson and Loring Doolittle and with Tommy Brodie and Walt Davis making their first start of the season, Aurora midgets battled to a 2-2 tie with Combines midgets on Tuesday night, each team collecting a point. Combines opened the scoring in the first period but Bill Mundell evened the score before the whistle blew. In the second period, Aurora went out in front from the stick of Bill Patrick, only to have Tom Cooney knot the count for the visitors. A blistering third period, which saw both teams go all out, failed to break the deadlock. Both teams are undefeated so far this season.

With Combines playing away at Midland, the Aurora youngsters will meet Maple here on Friday night.

BYE TO FINALS

Aurora midgets obtained a bye to the finals of the North York Lions league as Stouffville defaulted the series. Aurora now meets the winner of the Richmond Hill-Markham series.

A WORD TO OUR ADVERTISERS

The Newmarket Era and Express is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations (A.B.C.) Membership in the A.B.C. means that we must conform to certain practices, designed to protect you, the advertiser, in computing our circulation.

Most important of these practices is the exact calculation of the number of paid-in-advance subscriptions, counter and newsboy sales of our newspaper. Every paper we print must be accounted for, but only those which have been paid for in advance can be counted in our paid circulation.

So that when we say we have an average net paid circulation for three months ending March 31, 1946, of 3,193, you know for a certainty that number was correct. As an additional protection, an A.B.C. circulation auditor checks our circulation books every two years.

You will also know that the newspaper that a subscriber pays for in advance is a newspaper that will be read, and knowing this, you will be assured of an audience for your advertising message.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Aurora midget baseball club are finalists in the district midget playdowns, Stouffville mites calling it a day and defaulting the round to Leonard Simmons' kids. Just as well too, for the Aurora youngsters right now have too much class to make it an interesting series.

The team awaits the winner of the Markham-Richmond Hill set-to, presumably, Richmond Hill, which means the series won't get under way until next week. Most of the boys, however, won't be idle but will be on hand for the junior series against Newmarket.

In the O.B.A. play-offs, which start the first round on August 17, Aurora has a bye and presumably will be pitted in their first Ontario test against the winner of the Georgian Bay vs. Midland series. The Toronto winners also have a bye and should meet the eastern winners, the two ultimate winners probably clashing in the semi-finals. Neither Milliken nor Markham entered the O.B.A. playdowns.

Aurora and Newmarket juniors are the finalists in the junior North York competition. George Haskett's clan swamped Stouffville in two straight and Bill Holloway's hopefuls caused an upset by beating Milliken in straight games. The final series should be a pipperoo, on the dope, Newmarket getting the call, but anything can happen. Aurora and Milliken had a terrific series with Lefty Andrews turning in two neat pitching performances.

Orval Rows, the Milliken hurler, who won eight and dropped two over the regular schedule, didn't seem to have his stuff working as earlier in the year. Perhaps it was that the batters were more familiar with his delivery, or could be, as George Haskett suggests, that the win taken by Newmarket softened him up and took a good deal of his confidence away.

Carl Sellars, the Markham junior netminder, was one of the stars of the series, both at field and at bat, while Minton was another standout for Milliken.

Gar Doolittle, now discharged from the army, spurred the Aurora team to action, but everyone, especially including that durable little performer, Ron Simmons, played their best ball of the year.

In the junior O.B.A. B series where Newmarket will carry the North York banner, Haskett has his team carded against Stouffville in the first round. It won't be the same team if the series materializes for Stouffville will add Rows, Minton, Jewitt and Petch from Milliken and probably Miller and Forgie of the Markham team.

We'll take a ticket on Newmarket to get past the best all-star team the eastern section can offer. The entries in the B series range for the province from Meaford to Windsor. There are seven groups entered with the Lakeshore winners drawn to meet either Newmarket or Stouffville in the second round.

Next year, according to all the dope, the minor series and the proposed intermediate series as well will be represented by the actual winner of the league in place of separate entries as filed this year.

Little Britain from the Tri-County league, will represent the league in the intermediate B section with Lou Walker's Lindsay team going on in the intermediate A section.

Echoes of Newmarket camp come back with the victory of Columbus Grads in the Toronto Congress series. Behind the bat for Carman Bush (remember him from the juvenile series of last year?) was stocky Jim Borthwick who turned in some fine hockey last winter for Bing Caswell in the Newmarket town league. Borthwick earlier this year had a trial with Kingston professionals. He is rated as the top amateur catcher in the Toronto senior series.

Bruce Ferguson, who hurled the final game for Columbus, was located at the camp briefly last fall and pitched softball for the camp in the M.D. 2 play-offs.

Johnny Furlong, who played outfield for No. 23 B.T.C. the year they won the Newmarket town league and went on in the O.B.A. playdowns against Morse A.C., was one of the fielding stars of the outer pastures for Grads. The trio will be watched with interest in the finals against the teams at London this month.

Apologies to our young friend, Don Brown. Don is one of those listed to attend the Maple Leafs baseball school this month and he's all set to give his best. Young Brown has plenty of moxy, can shag a fly with the best and in a pinch can chuck a fair sort of game. Plays a nice game of basketball too.

The midget players will report to Coach Jimmy Grudzis the forepart of the week of the 12th and the juniors late in the week. The youngsters arrange their own transportation and expenses and the big objective is to make a place on the two all-star teams selected from the school and scheduled to play on the last Saturday.

Frank Peplatt, formerly of Newmarket, was one of the big shots in the Congress tournament in Toronto and took part in the opening ceremonies with credit to the old home-town.

Sand Star, George Costford's six-year-old, while he didn't win a race at the Connaught Park meet, did finish second and what a juicy price he paid. It was $19.80 for second and if he'd won the amount would have been tripled. George was aboard for a few simoleons. He collected second money once and fourth money on four occasions and the track paying the expenses to the track, probably came out on the right side of the ledger.

Billy Taylor of Toronto Leafs and once the pride of the Newmarket army hockeyists, saw his good two-year-old, Canada's Teddy, come home in front in a feature juvenile race at Fort Erie. The youngster appears to be good and in a few months we'll know just how good as the top juvenile stakes, the Coronation and Cup and Saucer are run in Toronto. Doesn't seem to be a standout two-year-old around for the honors have been fairly evenly divided all year between four or five horses.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schelke, Gormley, who celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary this week. Fred has Shepperton, Pop's Bomber and all the rest back at the Gormley farm until it's time for the fall meets.

All eyes will be turned to Goshen, N.Y., next week when the great harness classic, the Hambletonian Stakes, will be run. Earl Rowe, parliamentarian, farmer, driver, businessman and a regular guy too, has his pride and joy, Van Riddell, crack three-year-old, ready to go in the $50,000 stake. Earl took Van Riddell to the States two weeks ago but in Barrie last week we heard the horse caught cold en route and has been working under wraps ever since. Canadian trotters have never won the big race many times, but if the Rowe entry is "right" he stands a good chance to make the headlines. Has done 2.09 in recent trials without any effort.

Newmarket kids got a break, and the older fellows too, when the recreation council purchased the entire athletic equipment at the Newmarket camp sale for a mere 200 fish. Included in the lot was baseball, hockey, lacrosse, boxing, volleyball, horse-shoes, tug-of-war, wrestling and track and field equipment. It was a real buy which will stand in good stead in the future.

Bill Norton, valuable but classy Woodbridge lacrosse player, is the top scorer in the group.

although no official records have been kept all year. Bill has sent home no less than 34 markers, which gives him a big margin on the rest of the gutted stick artists. He's away out in front, and it seems that if you can stop Norton, you can hold Woodbridge. Although Combines defeated Woodbridge last week, Norton still went for two goals. Sole criticism of his play is that he carries the ball too much and could pass to more effect. But you can't have everything.

Roy Thompson of Maple has scored 25 markers to lead his team. Combines have had their goals more evenly divided than any team in the league and there must be a big mix-up be-twelve three or four of the lads for scoring honors.

Bert Smithson, former professional with Oshawa and Toronto, who has been refereeing in the group, finally succumbed to the lure of the game and has signed with Woodbridge. He's only played one game to date, but will see more action later. Incidentally, Bert has a son who is breaking into lacrosse with Woodbridge midgets.

Combines have a busy weekend in sight. They play Midland on Friday night in Midland, go to Huntsville on Monday and bring Midland back to Aurora for a return game on Friday, Aug. 9. The next week it's Maple and Huntsville.

Aurora kids and Combines' kids too, have chosen Tuesday night for their home games at Aurora arena, which means box-la will be on the menu at least twice a week.

Carl Mabley, former Aurora resident, is the new coach of the Richmond Hill girls' softball club. Carl has over 20 females ranging from 14 to 22 out to practice. They're getting new outfits too. These Mabley brothers have been spending quite a bit of their spare time in the sporting sphere. John handles the Richmond Hill midget lacrosse team. Cecil has been interested in hockey for years, and brother-in-law Norm Boore has been active in hockey too.

All-star selections will shortly be available from this corner in most sports. So far we're working on lacrosse and softball, and they'll make their appearance soon. Would be glad to have any on any of the sports being played from any of the fans or managers. Address your letters to Ab. Hulse, 11 Wellington St., Aurora. Don't say you weren't invited. For that matter we're always glad to hear from our readers on any topic. We have a flock of rule inquiries and requests for information about leagues which will be answered in the column if of general interest. Otherwise it's a straight reply to the writer by mail.

Richmond Hill midgets are playing their series with Markham over in Markham due to the poor condition of their own grounds.

A hand for Alf Smith for his great work in keeping the diamonds at Newmarket Lions park in shape. They've been tops all year. The Aurora diamond is in pretty fair shape as usual, and Stouffville has a fair set-up too. Langstaff softball diamond is one in the rough for the first year. It's a bandbox park and it'll take a year or two to get in shape. The visiting teams should remember that when complaining.

Thornhill has a fine example of community spirit in their renovated park, which by the end of the year won't take a back seat from any of them. The biggest drawback is an undersized home-plate which should be rectified without delay. Mount Albert Park is another example of a small centre turning out a finished product to rank with the best, simply by all the folks pitching in.

Victoria Square has come up with a new bowling green and a pretty flourishing club too, who will be heard from over the years.

Aurora Lawn Bowling club is still in need of new members and increased interest. The greens are in fair shape, and the handful of members who have kept the club going deserve far more support than they're getting. The response to their open-night last week wasn't very encouraging and there is some talk of the club folding. The bowlers don't want that, but they are only human. A bit of community support would help a lot. How about it?

ONE-MAN INDUSTRIES

While marking the migration from farm to city, it is worth noting that the traffic is not all one way. People are leaving the cities but for different reasons. The farmer forsakes his dawn-to-dusk labor for an eight-hour day at a vastly higher return. In the process, he exchanges his independence for the anonymity of the assembly line. Conversely, many are leaving the cities to find the independence they could not have there.

While travelling along No. 11 highway north of Huntsville recently, we stopped at four tourist establishments. All were being operated by former city-dwellers. In each case, the operators had left the city because they were "tired of working for someone else." One man had left a position in an electrical plant, bought a tract of land north of Huntsville where he built his own cabins, wired them and put in the plumbing. He operates a refreshment booth with his cabin business while his wife hand-colors photographs of Northern Ontario scenes for sale.

Their story, except for minor variations, was the same as the others. They all share the same enthusiasm and are determined to make a paying proposition of their new venture. They all provide service in capital letters. They are confident of their future and look upon their ventures as not only a means to independence but as a guarantee for future security. They have made an investment, they feel, which will pay dividends all their lives.

This exodus from the city is not confined to those going into the tourist trade by any means. Young people, anxious to go into business for themselves, are quitting the cities for the towns and villages where living is cheaper and happier. Many of them are developing one-man industries into going concerns employing two or three. In most cases, it is a husband and wife proposition with each partner contributing his share of labor and skill to the family venture.

Many of these enterprises will fail, but the majority of them will survive to become a basic part of our stable economy. Using home-grown raw materials, unhampered by labor disputes, fired by an enthusiasm which is lacking in so many of the large industries, these enterprises are growing into a valuable national asset, as well as a means to independence, a fuller life and security for their operators.

The first annual sports day of Mount Albert Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. will be held on Monday, Aug. 5, in the park. Ball games, tug-of-war, tennis, a pipe band of the Irish Regiment, will be featured. What Others Think

THOSE PERSONAL SAVINGS
(The Times-Review, Fort Erie)

Much has been said about the tremendous amount of potential purchasing power in the hands of the public, either in the form of Victory bonds or personal saving accounts in the banks. The magnitude of this amount has been advanced as one of the compelling reasons for the retention of price-control measures. This contention is based on the theory that, with the abolition of price ceilings while so many commodities are in short supply, individuals would immediately begin bidding against one another for whatever was available, and prices would skyrocket.

That theory seems untenable because it is contradictory to assume that the same people who, despite the unprecedented levels to which income taxes rose during the war, bought bonds and put money in the bank, are likely overnight to become spendthrifts as soon as price ceilings are removed. Runaway prices are more likely to be caused by the prodigal type, who save little or none of their current income. But, be that as it may, a study just completed by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics for the United States

Federal Reserve Board, reveals another aspect of the situation concerning personal savings. The survey indicates that only 20 percent of American families hold over 75 percent of all savings. The next 50 percent of the families, holding savings which range from $50 to $1,800, have all the rest. This leaves 30 percent with no nest-egg at all.

Something the analysis does not cover is that the little people already have used a slice of their savings, which is shown by the fact that $2,600,000,000 of U.S. war bonds were cashed in the first five months of this year. All of which indicates that a considerable percentage of consumers today have very little saved.

Of course, the foregoing applies to the United States, but there is little reason to doubt that similar percentages and proportionate figures would be found applicable to Canada if such a survey were conducted here.

AUDITING COSTS ON THE JUMP
(The Tribune, Stouffville)

Twenty-five years ago, municipalities like Markham, Pickering and Whitchurch townships had their books audited for $100 and even less. Stouffville paid only $40. All that is changed now with the increasing demands by higher authority for a more careful and exhaustive audit.

This year, Markham township is paying its firm of auditors $550, which is $200 more than they paid prior to the new regulation requiring the township auditors to audit the school books for all the township sections. Stouffville is paying $200 for chartered accountant services.

The present method of auditing by professionals is so complicated that not five percent of the ratepayers in any of the municipalities mentioned could gain the slightest information from the reports submitted.

However, this does not mean that the reports are not well done, and provide a safe-guard for the ratepayers against monies going astray. The auditing must be done in such a manner that government auditors are satisfied with the reports because the province is participating more and more in contributing to local taxation, and they demand to know that the money is spent according to the formula prescribed.

Township road expenditures and the department of education meets half the rural school costs or more. Consequently they have a right to demand properly audited statements.

FUSS OVER WOMEN'S HATS
(The Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville)

Mrs. Gladys Strum, only woman member of the Ottawa house, complained recently about the rule requiring women to wear hats in the gallery. The speaker wanted time to consider the matter. June 4, he halted the nation's business to say: "After a few days of meditation and mature consideration, I am not disposed to any severe decree. I leave the decision to the ladies themselves. Covered or hatless their presence will always be welcome." He learned that the practice was probably borrowed from the churches and may have been promulgated from Saint Paul's 1st. Epistle to Timothy and also the Corinthians, from which he quoted:

"That women appear in churches in decent apparel, adorning themselves with modesty and sobriety, not with plaited hair or gold or pearls or costly attire and they learn in silence; but I suffer not a woman to teach nor use authority over the man; but to be in silence. Let women keep silence in the churches; for it is not permitted them to speak but to be subject as also law saith." There wasn't much about hats in the sermon but Mr. Speaker went on to explain that times have changed. He rested his case on precedent and recent usage.

News On Recreation

By E. R. MATHER
Office hours: 3.30-5.50, firehall, phone 695.

The recreation council has made a mid-summer report on its activities and plans. Mimeographed copies are available to all. The main items are the swimming program and the supplementary playgrounds; other activities and support include baseball, softball and tennis.

Also there are copies of the constitution of the recreation council which I have here and would be glad to pass around. They may help to explain the organization and function of the council. Briefly, this body is composed of representatives from all organizations which provide recreation in the community, and its purpose is to stimulate interest in recreation and to help promote it. An executive has been elected to expedite the business of the council, but all business must be approved by the whole council. The main point, however, is that this organization is not a separate group but is made up of representatives from all groups and that policies and plans therefore should arise from the members and individuals themselves. All representatives, and all interested are especially asked to attend the general council meetings. At the next full council meeting, probably Aug. 13, we hope to have Ken Robinson, recreation director of Barrie, give us a report on the activities carried on in that community.

Baseball. The juniors are one up in the finals with Aurora, the second out of a possible three games being played tonight at Aurora with the third game, if necessary, being played here next Tuesday. From there, the winning team goes on to the O.B.A. playoffs.

With the North York Lions league being all over for the midges, a new town league was formed to give other youngsters a chance to learn a bit about the game. Three teams are going: Donaldson's Dodgers, Thom's Tigers, and Gibson's Cardinals.

The second game of the series will be on Friday night at the Stuart Scott school grounds at 7.15. Drop around and give the youngsters some support. We could use an official scorer too for the league (and as always, umpires), so step out and give them a hand.

The Lions club playground, under the direction of "Mickey" Smith, is planning to send a representative team up to Barrie to challenge its best. This match will consist of big-league ten-year-olds and under. Mickey may be wanting some cars to give an assist one of these days on this project so drop around and give him the word.

The two supplementary playgrounds established by the recreation council at St. John's and Alexander Muir schools are progressing fairly well. The Prospect St. location has averaged about 30 a day and St. John's about 12. Activities are not strenuous and there is adequate supervision between the hours of 9.30 to 11.30 and 1.30 to 4.30.

Swimming. Several of the junior swimmers are about ready to make a try for their junior swimming test, which consists mainly of swimming a distance of 30 yards. Most of the swimmers are progressing very favorably although we must admit that some are not too anxious to extend their water activities beyond knee level depth.

A good part of this course is devoted to the idea of making youngsters water safety conscious rather than teaching them to become expert swimmers. This latter can come later, but our experience so far this summer has been that very few of the children have any idea of how to conduct themselves when they are in or near the water. Swimming, diving, playing in the water is excellent fun and exercise and is perfectly safe, provided of course that there is some knowledge and common sense to back it up and go along with it. This is our objective and I can assure all parents that it is succeeding fairly well.

Tennis. The club is holding an open tournament on Wednesday, Aug. 7, at 2 p.m. Players from all over are invited. Entry fee is $1, balls supplied, and prizes given.
